SUPPLEMENTARY INSTRUCTIONS IN PREPARATION FOR TRIAL

1. Prior to the trial, all exhibits must be pre-marked and exchanged between counsel (using numerals for plaintiff's exhibits and letters for defendant's exhibits). Parties should stipulate as to authenticity and admissibility to the extent possible. As to any exhibit as to which there is to be an objection, the pre-trial order should state the grounds for the objection with supporting legal authority. Exhibits not pre-marked and exchanged between counsel will be excluded at trial.

2. At the beginning of the trial, a complete extra set of documentary exhibits should be handed to the Judge for his use during the trial and a list of all exhibits should be supplied to Judge Sprizzo's clerk and to the Judge, with all exhibits numbered in uniformity with the pre-trial order. Counsel should also have copies of any depositions which are to be read in a jury case. If it is a non-jury case, counsel should mark the portions of each deposition which are to be offered in evidence and supply them to the court reporter who is transcribing the transcript.

3. At the end of trial, counsel should make sure they have all of their exhibits. The clerk is not responsible for them. If it is a non-jury case, counsel should submit their exhibits when they file their post-trial briefs, which are to be geared to the testimony. It is suggested that counsel order the transcript daily copy to expedite the case.

4. In all non-jury cases, the parties shall submit, at the conclusion of a trial or at said time as the Court may fix, proposed finding of facts and conclusions of law, setting forth the legal and factual contentions of the party together with supporting legal authority.

5. Where deposition testimony is to be offered in evidence at trial, the parties shall confer and agree to the extent possible as to what depositions or portions thereof shall be admitted into evidence. All counsel are instructed to avoid unnecessary, repetitive and cumulate deposition testimony.

6. Counsel may submit on the date fixed for the filing of their Joint Pre-Trial Order, a pre-trial memoranda containing any legal argument which counsel wishes the Court to consider with respect to any legal issues which counsel believes will arise at trial. Such a memorandum shall not exceed twenty-five (25) pages.
